Mayor of the day

Can you image getting to meet the mayor of Belville town? I'm going to help him get an idea of what he's going to do to the park across of the school. He should paint the girls bathroom walls pink and the boys bathroom walls blue. He should put some more picnic tables out. He should get a really responsible someone to run a bingo game every Saturday and Friday. He should set up movies in the park every Friday night after school. The mayor should add a baby play ground for the babies to play on because the one we have now is to tall and the big sister or brother or mom and dad will have to get on with them. My wirting teacher told me that the mayor will get us out of school early and we can go sit behind his desk. It's like a mayor but more little! Mayor of the day sounds really fun!
